TAFT WING SWINGS ROOSEVELT AGAIN

President's Forces in Complete Control and Decide All Contests Against Teddy — Close Vote in California Case—No Indication of a Bolt—Nomination Likely Tonight.

Chicago, June 21.—The Taft forces in their Republican National Convention today further demonstrated their control of that body. The convention took up piece-meal the contests from many States and in each instance the Taft delegates were declared entitled to their seats by majorities ranging from a high-water Taft vote of 605 to 464 to a narrow margin of 542 to 529.

The latter vote was in the California case, in which the convention rules for selection of delegates by Congressional districts came into conflict with the State primary law providing for a Statewide vote on all delegates. Through the technicality the Taft forces claimed the two delegates from the Fourth district. The case was bitterly fought and the voting was followed with the greatest interest, especially when it was seen that the Taft people were losing many of the delegates that had been with them in other contests.

Despite the fact that the Roosevelt people were defeated in all their fights today, there was no indication of a bolt. Some of the Roosevelt leaders had feared that the Californians might take matters into their own hands and fail to observe the Roosevelt programme of sitting through the convention to the end and then possibly taking independent action. But their fears proved groundless.

When adjournment was taken tonight until 10 A. M., tomorrow the Texas and Washington contest cases still remained to be dealt with and there was likelihood of more bitterness between the opposing forces.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt watched today's proceedings from the galleries for several hours.

After the test vote on the California contests and the victory of the Taft forces in this fight, she left the building.

Tomorrow the convention enters its fifth day and still is proceeding under temporary organization, a condition unprecedented in the history of the party. The leaders are going at their task in earnest tomorrow and although many doubt their inability to do so, are going tc try to get through with the nominations and everything else before adjourning early Sunday morning.

Chicago, June 21.—The Roosevelt forces met their third defeat in the Republican convention this afternoon. By a vote of years 569 to 499 noes, the convention voted to table a resolution of Governor Hadley which would have prevented any of the contested delegates voting on any of the cases reported by the credentials committee.

The first vote of Temporary Chairman Root's election was 558 to 502. The second on Hadley's original proposition to the same effect was 564 to 510.

With announcement of the result of the first roll call it was declared that the Roosevelt people would go "straight down the line," fighting every case, and demanding a roll call on each.

The credentials committee had voted to submit to the convention its report on the Alabama contests. Roosevelt members, led by Hadley and Halbert, had made a vigorous attempt to delay this action. When the convention came to order Chairman Root announced the first business to be the report of the committee on credentials.

The report recommended the seating of the Taft delegates in the Ninth Alabama district and sustained the findings of the National Committee.

R. R. McCormick, of Illinois, presented a minority report in favor of the Roosevelt contestants.

The minority statement was read. It protested that J. C. Adams, of Arizona; C. A. Warnken, of Texas, and W. T. Dovell, of Washington, had no right to sit on the credentials committee because they had been elected by delegates whose States were contested.

"They are, in effect, sitting as judges in their own cases," said the report.

The report protested also against the sitting on the credentials committee of five members who had been members of the National Committee because they had also passed upon the contests.

In conclusion the report recommended the seating of the Roosevelt delegates from the Ninth Alabama district.

When the reading had been concluded Governor Hadley moved that the minority report favoring the seating of the Roosevelt delegates be substituted for the majority. Heney, of California, seconded the motion.

An unknown delegates moved to lay the motion on the table.

Meanwhile Governor Hadley asked unanimous consent for Mr. McCormick to read a further statement from the minority. Several delegates arose, but before a protest could be registered Senator Root added with a pound of the gavel: "The chair hears none."

Governor Hadley presented a resolution which would prevent a vote on the question by any of the delegates now under contest.

Chairman Root announced that it was Robert J. Walker, a Virginia delegate, who had made the motion to lay on the table, but had withdrawn it at the request of his delegation to allow Governor Hadley to make a motion which otherwise would have been excluded under the rules.

When Governor Hadley was recognized for the motion, he was cheered. He began to talk from the floor, but Root quieting the demonstration, said:

"It is the evident wish of the convention that you should take the platform."

A storm of applause broke as Hadley started up the aisle.

After he got to the platform Governor Hadley made his motion, which was a renewal of the fight to keep all contested delegates from voting. He sought to bar 72 delegates from casting their ballots until such time as their own cases had been determined. The original Hadley list contained 92 delegates when first presented last Monday. On Tuesday it was scaled down to 78, today it was 72.

James E. Watson, of Indiana, the Taft floor leader, moved to lay the motion of Governor Hadley on the table. A roll call was demanded and seconded. It was ordered.

Heney, of California, who had been on his feet several times during the session clamoring for recognition, interrupted the roll call demanding to know if the 72 contested delegates were to be allowed to vote on the motion.

Senator Root said that the two sitting members from the Ninth Alabama district, whose right to seats were involved, would not be allowed to vote. All others on the temporary roll would vote.

Heney protested that the right of the 72 delegates were involved and he made a point of order to that effect.

"Overruled," said Chairman Root.

"I expected it," shouted back Heney.

Before the vote was announced the chairman of the North Carolina delegation said one of his members, absent when his name was called, had reached the hall and wanted to vote.

There was objection from some quarters and confusion ensued. Finally a member of the Kansas delegation got up and demanded to know if a man "had a right to vote in this convention."

"He has if you will keep quiet long enough to permit it," shouted Senator Root.

The name of the North Carolina delegate, Mr. Hedrick, was called, and the incident ended.

The vote was 569 ayes, 499 noes, 10 not voting.

This was a gain for the Taft forces and a distinct loss to the Roosevelt adherents and the Taft people applauded and cheered for a minute.

The motion to table the motion of Governor Hadley to substitute the minority report for the majority report in the Alabama case then was put, and Hadley demanded another roll call and it was granted despite cries of "No, no", from the floor.

At this time it was apparent there would be a third roll call when it came to a motion to adopt the majority report in favor of the Taft delegates. The vote was 605 to 464 against the minority report and the big Taft victory called out a cheer.

The plan of Governor Hadley to force a roll call on the motion to adopt the majority report, was abandoned after this decisive vote and it was put through viva voce.

The report on the Arizona contests was then presented, seating the Taft delegates.

Sullivan, of Ohio, was then recognized to present the views of the minority on the Arizona cases. He read a brief statement. The minority report was tabled by a vote of 564 to 497.

The majority report was adopted by a viva voce vote, the Arizona delegation not voting.

The Fifth Arkansas district report in favor of the Taft delegates was then taken up. Watson, as usual, moved to table the minority report presented by Governor Hadley. It was carried viva voce. The majority report adopted by a viva voce vote, without roll call.

The absence of roll call caught up with the committee's report and another intermission took place at 3:38 P. M.

At 3:57 the chairman rapped for order and W. T. Dovell, of Washington, brought in the credentials committee report on the Fourth California district, seating the two Taft delegates and moved its adoption.

The report recommended the seating of Tyron and Meyerfield, the two Taft delegates, who up to this time have not sat with the 24 delegates from California, but have been seated on the platform and voted from there on all roll calls.

Watson moved to lay on the table motion to substitute minority for majority report. There was much confusion. Watson asked unanimous consent for 20 minutes on each side for debate. Confusion was so great he could not proceed for some moments.

The time was allowed.

Chairman Root announced that the majority and the minority would be controlled by Payne, of New York, and Hadley, of Missouri. Francis J. Heney took the platform for the minority.

Heney was constantly interrupted by applause, cheers, hisses and points of order. In ruling on the first one, Chairman Root said:

"In the opinion of the chair the gentleman is not yet over the line where he should be called to order."

Heney said the two Taft delegates

TEDDY NOT A CANDIDATE AT PRESENT CONVENTION

Colonel Roosevelt Won't Allow His Name to Be Presented Before Body He Terms "Illegal"—Plans to Hold a Later Meeting at Which He Will be Nominated

Chicago, June 21.—If Col. Roosevelt eventually heads an independent ticket, it seems certain tonight that the convention which will name him will be held at a time considerably after the adjournment of the Republican National Convention now in session in this city. As a result of the decisive votes of today's proceedings of the convention, particularly that on the Fourth California district contest, and after a day's sober reflection on the part of his close advisers, the plan for a continuation of the present convention as outlined yesterday has practically been abandoned.

If, fourthermore, Mr. Roosevelt is placed in nomination before the convention now in session, it will not be of his planning or with his sanction, but the individual action of some one of his enthusiastic supporters. These points in the otherwise somewhat indefinite Roosevelt programme were made clear tonight by Col. Roosevelt himself and confirmed by some of his closest advisers.

Some of Col. Roosevelt's more radical supporters still cling to the belief that it would be wise to carry out their original plan, which in effect was stoutly to maintain that the Republican convention is irregular and illegal, and after its adjournment to proceed with an organization in the same hall and name their ticket with Mr. Roosevelt at its head. Col. Roosevelt, however, today refused to sanction this plan. He did not forbid it. He still maintains that he is bound to obey the wishes of his supporters and that he is willing, as he expressed it yesterday in his statement, "personally to bear the responsibility."

He let it be known today, however, that he did not regard such an idea as entirely practicable. Should the nomination be offered to him under such circumstances, it is not his intention to decline, but he believes the wiser course would be to defer final action along these lines for awhile. His idea, as explained today, is that his supporters shall return to their homes and learn the sentiment in their own communities. A month or six weeks later, should conditions warrant, his leaders from the different parts of the country will assemble to determine whether there exists a sufficiently widespread sentiment to justify the creation of a new party. If the decision is in the affirmative a National convention will be held.

Col. Roosevelt said tonight he would [illegible] to the course which he has [illegible]d out, regardless of what the [illegible]velt delegates to the convention [illegible] upon.

He has taken a position apart from the present struggle with the idea that so long as the 78 delegates whom he says are his, are not seated, he cannot be influenced by any act of the National Convention. If the bulk of his delegates choose to follow the course which he has mapped out, he expects to preserve the present organization of his forces. If only a handfull should decide, at the final count, to stand with him, his decision will not be influenced.

Col. Roosevelt's only statement today in regard to his position was that he had definitely stated his intentions and that there could be no change in them.

He said that the situation was so unsettled that neither he nor any other man could foresee the events of the next few days.

It is his confident belief that a decided protest in every section of the country will be made when the facts in connection with the unseating of his delegates become known, and that this protest will foment until it develops into a formidable movement. Such a movement he believes will not be entirely partisan, but will come of the plain people of all parties to whom he has made his appeal during his campaign for the Republican nomination. If he were nominated, he said, he would carry the fight into the South with as much vigor as into the North, with the idea of attracting to his standard all those who believe as he does.

Col. Roosevelt says that he needs no sympathy and no matter what the outcome may be, the fight, he says, has been one worth making, win or lose, and his own position cannot be changed by the outcome.

There is a division of opinion among the Roosevelt leaders as to what part of his following will stand by him to the extent of severing the tie with their party. Col. Roosevelt's belief as stated by his friends is that although a considerable number of his leaders will feel that they cannot take the final step with him, a majority of them will do so. Of the opinion of the mass of Roosevelt delegates, he has no knowledge. Most of them, it was pointed out, are men who have strong personal reasons for remaining with the party and will wish to ascertain the sentiment of their supporters at home before committing themselves. Col. Roosevelt's position is that he wishes to bring no pressure to bear upon any man to follow him. He will not ask them to make personal sacrifices for him, as he can promise them no return.

Col. Roosevelt would express no opinion as to the possibility of effecting a coalition with any element of the Democratic party. Some of his supporters, however, were less reticent.

E. A. Perry, chairman of the Oklahoma delegation, said tonight that after the convention had adjourned his delegation would go to Baltimore and open negotiations.

"We shall invite all the Roosevelt delegates to go with us," he said. The same situation exists in the Democratic party as in the Republican party and we believe we shall be able to come to terms with progressive Democrats for the formation of a progressive party."

Col. Roosevelt was asked when he would return to Oyster Bay and replied:

"I am not the seventh son of a seventh son."

Tonight Mr. Roosevelt met with a large number of his delegates for a few minutes. He thanked his supporters for their devotion to him and prom-

OUTLINES

W. J. Bryan began stirring up trouble yesterday by telegraphing prominent Democrats throughout the country asking them to join him in the fight against Judge Parker's election as chairman of the Democratic convention. Developments yesterday gave promise of a hot fight at the convention in Baltimore next week.

The Taft forces were still in complete control of the Republican convention yesterday and voted to seat all the contested delegates reported on by the Credentials Committee. The convention adjourned at 7:38 to meet today at 11 A. M., and it is thought a nomination may be made and all business completed by Sunday morning.

Harvard yesterday won the annual boat race from Yale.

Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw yesterday testified at her husband's hearing and protested bitterly when called upon to repeat the details of her relations with Stanford White.

Colonel Roosevelt announced last night that he would not allow his name to be presented to the Republican convention as at present constituted as he deems it an "illegal" body. He plans to hold a convention later and head an independent ticket.

The Credentials Committee of the Republican convention had practically completed its work in passing on all contested delegates last night, the decisions in each case tallying with those of the National committee.

BRYAN BEGINS TO STIR UP TROUBLE

Calls Prominent Democrats to Arms and Prepares for Fight at Baltimore Against Judge Parker, Who Accepts Temporary Chairmanship — Clark Would Avoid Any Controversy.

Baltimore, June 21.—William J. Bryan's telegraphic note to five candidates for the Presidential nomination—Speaker Clark, Governors Wilson, Foss and Baldwin and Mayor Gaynor asking them to join him in opposition to the selection of Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, as temporary chairman of the Democratic National Convention on the ground that he was a conservative, dissipated tonight the faint hope of some of the leaders here that a fight at the opening of the convention might still be avoided.

The selection of Judge Parker yesterday sounded a call to arms and today Mr. Bryan's note caused a general aligning of forces. Tonight the National committeemen were eagerly awaiting to hear what the replies of the five candidates would be to the Bryan inquiry before making any further moves.

Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, with other Tammany chieftains, came over from New York tonight and was quickly in conference with those National committeemen who had voted for Judge Parker.

No denial that the leaders of the movement for Speaker Clark's nomination had joined with the Parker forces was forthcoming during the day and it was generally accepted as a fact. This alliance, it was reported, would result in New York's 90 votes being cast for Clark for the nomination.

National committeemen standing by Parker declared that Bryan would be defeated in the National Committee, even though he accepted a proxy from some committeemen and appeared in opposition to Judge Parker.

Representative R. L. Henry, of Texas, who was regarded as the Wilson candidate for temporary chairman, tonight came out with a declaration that the progressives cannot and will not agree to the selection of Judge Parker, a known reactionary, for temporary chairman to preside over a convention in which a very large majority of the delegates are genuinely progressive.

"We will not support Judge Parker, but fight his selection before the full committee, and, if necessary, carry the contest into the convention.

"It may be stated to a certainty that an overwhelmingly progressive majority will not tolerate a reactionary making the keynote speech after he and those agreeing with him have lost in the primaries and conventions.

"Mr. Bryan is right and I shall be found fighting in the front with him."

There were no end of conferences today between the various National committeemen to discuss the situation and prepare the plans for a fight. Former National Chairman Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, declared for harmony and hoped that everything could be settled satisfactorily.

To his friends he said:

"We voted for Judge Parker with no intent to affront Mr. Bryan or any man. Mr. Parker is a good Democrat, a former nominee of the party, and has been loyal. He stumped the country for Mr. Bryan from Maine to California four years ago and paid his own expenses. We had hoped that the present party harmony would be maintained and no one would disturb it."

John T. McGraw, National committeeman from West Virginia, said that the putting of the temporary chairmanship proposition up to the candidates was not fair.

"What could Speaker Clark say?" asked Mr. McGraw. "What could Governor Wilson? Just what he said before that he had no candidate for temporary chairman, and that any fair man would suit him."

Judge Hudspeth, National committeeman from New Jersey, said Governor Wilson had no candidate and that any fair-minded man was agreeable to him. Judge Hudspeth said he had hoped that the convention would designate a progressive man to represent the spirit of the country.

Judge Parker's friends kept in close touch with the progress of affairs throughout the day and declared that there was no doubt that the fight had come with Mr. Bryan and that he would be beaten.

Just what the attitude of the Southern delegates would be over the fact that Mr. Bryan did not send his note to Representative Oscar Underwood, a Presidential candidate, caused much speculation tonight among the leaders. Underwood's candidacy is favored by several Southern delegations and their caucuses here are awaited with interest.

National committeemen favorable to Governor Wilson's candidacy said that they were positive that Speaker Clark and his friends had joined with the Parker people, but confidently asserted that Mr. Clark could not swing the delegates with him when it came to an open fight on the floor of the convention between what Mr. Bryan has called reactionaries and progressives

"Interesting" Says Parker

Rochester, N. Y., June 21.—Judge Alton B. Parker, named as temporary chairman of the Democratic convention was today shown a copy of the message that William J. Bryan had wired to prominent Democrats throughout the country.

Judge Parker read the message through carefully.

"It is very interesting," he said at length. He scanned the names of the Governors to whom the message, advocating the rejection of Judge Parker and selection as temporary chairman of some progressive acceptable to the leading progressive candidates for the Presidential nomination had been sent. He read the names of Governors Wilson, Burke, Foss, Baldwin and Mayor Gaynor.

"It is very interesting," he repeated, "but I have no comment to offer. It has been my policy to remain silent for the past few months."

He mentioned, however, that he planned to begin work on his address as temporary chairman on the way to New York today. He leaves this city for New York early in the evening.

Bryan Wires Leaders

Chicago, June 21.—William J. Bryan, when informed of Judge Parker's acceptance, said he had nothing to add to his former statement today when he telegraphed to a number of prominent Democrats throughout the country appealing to them to join in preventing the election of Judge Parker as temporary chairman. He remarked, however, that thus far only a subcommittee had dealt with the question. The full National Committee and the convention had still to act.

The telegram was addressed to Speaker Clark, Governor Wilson, of New Jersey; Governor Burke, of South Dakota; Governor Foss, of Massachusetts; Governor Baldwin, of Connecticutt, and Mayor Gaynor, of New York city.

Colonel Bryan's appeal follows:

"In the interest of harmony I suggested to the sub-committee of the Democratic National Committee the advisability of recommending as temporary chairman some progressive acceptable to the leading progressive candidates for the Presidential nomination. I took it for granted that no committeeman interested in Democratic success would desire to offend the member of a convention overwhelmingly progressive by naming a reactionary to sound the keynote of the campaign. Eight members of the sub-committee, however, have over the protest of the remaining eight agreed upon not only a reactionary, but upon the one Democrat, who, among those not candidates for the Presidential nomination is, in the eyes of the public, most conspicuously identified with the reactionary element of the party. I shall be pleased to join you and your friends in opposing his selection by the full committee, or by the convention. Kindly answer here."

A Pity, Says "Marse Henry"

Baltimore, June 21. — National Chairman Mack had no statement to make tonight on the temporary chairmanship situation, but gave out a telegram he received from Colonel Henry Watterson. The telegram read:

"No fair objection to the choice of Judge Parker for temporary chairman can be made by any thoughtful Democrat. As you know, I favored another for that high honor, but what the Democrats of the United States at this time most need and require is the pooling of issues, not the raising of disturbance. I especially hope that Mr. Bryan will see the force of this. Like yourself, I am his friend. We want at Baltimore not a repetition of the disgraceful scene being enacted at Chicago. I fear that if Mr. Bryan, thrice the nominee of the party for President, should begin by taking the floor to oppose Judge Parker, once its nominee, he will not only raise the standard of factionism, but will run the risk of ending a second Roosevelt, and surely one Roosevelt were enough for all times and both parties. At a turning when the very foundations of our constitutional symtem are menaced and when upon the wisdom and patriotism of Democracy the future of free government in America may depend it will be criminal to split its hairs over a doctrinal difference if there be any, or to dogmatize upon the details of reform. Such words as Progressivist and reactionary should have no place in any Democratic lexicon. They belong to the Republicans. They are springs to catch Republican woodcock.

"The Democratic party at Baltimore should present the country a square and solid front, simple, sound, axiomatic platform and a ticket so obvious that no Democrat can find a reason for bolting against it. With such a guaranty of integrity the party cannot fail of the vote of independent and patriotic Americans who are sick alike of double dealing and visionary empiricism.

"HENRY WATTERSON."

Baltimore, June 21.—The fight for control of the Democratic party is on in deep earnest, the first step having been the contest over the selection of Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman. This action is taken to mean war with the progressives, for the control of the convention, with its nominee and platform.

As soon as Parker's selection made the split, the Clark forces went over to the side of the conservatives and gave them temporary control, which

HARVARD WINS ANNUAL RACE

The Crimson Crew Demonstrates Its Supremacy Over Yale—Makes Nearly a Clean Sweep of All the Events.

New London ,Conn., June 21.—For the fifth successive year Harvard demonstrated her rowing supremacy over Yale today by winning not only the 'varsity race with six lengths to spare, but capturing the Freshman event by a length and the four oared contest by 10 lengths. A Yale victory in the Freshman substitute four oared race yesterday prevented a complete Crimson sweep of the river for 1912. There was so much joy in Harvard's cup, however, with six out of seven victories in the race this year that the Crimson host returned to Cambridge hilarious.

There was never a doubt of the 'Varsity race this afternoon and there was 20 1-2 seconds in time between the boats at the finish. The first official time of the three races follows:

University race, four miles: Harvard 21:43 1-2; Yale 22:05.

Freshman race, two miles: Harvard 10:52; Yale 10:54 1-2.

University fours, two miles: Harvard 11:24; Yale 11:55.

There were many interesting incidents coming from Harvard's victories. It brought the long series of aquatic contests with Yale to a tie for the first time since 1902, as both universities have now won 23 contests with the oars. Five successive Harvard victories over Yale have not been achieved since 1870.

Except perhaps, for the first few strokes, there was never a moment today that Harvard was not master of the situation. The Freshmen led after the first 100 yards, the fours practically from the start and the 'Varsity from the first 10 yards. The Freshmen race was the best contest of the three, but there were times in the 'Varsity race when it seemed as if Yale were overhauling the flying Crimson shell and that bulldog tenacity would bring the race to something better than the processions which have marked the great contest between the two universities during the past four years. But there was always a corresponding rebound by the Crimson oarsmen and the half length advantage at the half mile was steadily increased with the passing of each distance flag.

Agricultural Train to Be Operated Over Coast Line This Summer

As has been privously published in The Star, the Atlantic Coast Line, acting in conjunction with the North Carolina Agricultural & Mechanical College and the United States Department of Agriculture, will operate an agricultural train over the Coast Line in this State during the Summer, the itinerary of which will be published later.

Three features are selected for special emphasis on this train, live stock, drainage and better methods of cultivation. All of these are receiving the attention of the North Carolina farmers to a more or less degree now and they will welcome the opportunity the train will give them to secure further information on the subjects.

The train will consist of six cars and will carry types of dairy and beef cattle, Percheron horses; Berkshire, Duroc and Jersey hogs, improved farm machinery of all kinds; a well assorted lot of drain tile and modern tools for using in ditching and laying tile.

A corps of experts will lecture at each stop on breeds, selection, feeding and management of live stock and when practicable to do so demonstrations in the use of the improved farm machinery, laying of tile, etc.

Man Coughs and Breaks Ribs.

After a frightful coughing spell a man of Neenah, Wis., felt terrible pains in his side and his doctor found two ribs had been broken. What agony Dr. King's New Discovery would have saved him. A few teaspoonsful ends a late cough, while persistent use routs obstinate coughs, expels stubborn colds or heals weak, sore lungs. "I feel sure it's a Godsend to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption today if I had not used this great remedy." It's guaranteed to satisfy, and you can get a free trial bottle or 50-cent or $1.00 size at R. R. Bellamy.

ised to meet them again tomorrow.

Mr. Roosevelt told the delegates that after the action in the California case there was no use of making any further contest, of carrying on the fight, or paying any further attention to any action of the convention.

While Roosevelt was in conference with his advisers tonight a crowd of several thousand persons gathered in Michigan avenue and cheered until he raised a window and addressed them.

"My friends," he said, "my hat is in the ring and will be in stronger than ever."

That was all. The crowd shouted for a longer address, but the colonel lowered the window and retired.

The Programme Today.

Chicago, June 21.—The Republican leaders directing the affairs of the National convention are going to try tomorrow to crowd the work of three days into one with permanent organization yet to be effected, with several important contest cases yet to be heard, with rules to be adopted; platform to be threshed out and nominations for President and Vice President to be made, the convention will be called to order at 10 A. M., and every possible effort will be made to dispose of the accumulated business before adjournment of the session is taken.

It seemed a foregone conclusion tonight that President Taft would be re-nominated on the first ballot. Col. Roosevelt indicated that his name would not be presented to the "tainted convention" if his wishes were followed. Talk of a compromise candidate, dropped two days ago, showed no sign of revival. It was generally believed that the delegates instructed for Col. Roosevelt would offer his name, despite his expressed desire.

The Roosevelt forces have not abandoned their general fight in the convention by any means, and a hard struggle is in prospect tomorrow over the Texas and Washington contests.

The new rules to be adopted which the Roosevelt people say are framed to perpetuate the present system of controlling a National convention are sure to precipitate a heated debate, while the platform may be assailed by the LaFollette delegates as well as some of the progressives in the Roosevelt faction. So it is with some trepidation that the leaders look forward tonight to accomplishing the herculean task before them by Sunday morning.

The platform makers determined tonight to disregard entirely the question of woman suffrage. A compromise probably will be reached on the committee on tariff, the platform declaring the tariff to be a matter for consideration and recommendation by the Tariff Board.

Justice Hughes, of the United States Supreme Court, evidently disturbed by the prominence given his name in talk of a compromise candidate several days ago, has sent two telegrams to Senator Root, couched in most positive terms, to the effect that his name must not be considered under any circumstances for the Presidential nomination; that if he were nominated he would be under the embarrassing necessity of declining the honor, so that the convention would have to reconvene and nominate somebody else.

Mr. Roosevelt's leaders were loath to discuss tonight the probability that the colonel would not be placed in nomination.

Mr. Roosevelt, himself has repeatedly declared that he would have nothing to do with the convention unless it is "purged of tainted delegates."

It is reported late tonight that Col. Roosevelt had already told William Prendergast, who was to place him in nomination, not to present his name unless the present control of the body should by chance be overturned.

Other Roosevelt leaders indicated strongly that Mr. Roosevelt's name would not be presented.

Frank Munsey, of the Roosevelt forces, said tonight: "Mr. Roosevelt will be nominated for President by a new party. He refuses to have anything more to do with the Republican convention now in session in this city. He would not now take a nomination from that body if it were given to him. He regards it as a grossly illegal organization formed by the force of men fraudulently seated. Taft will probably be nominated late tomorrow. It is now the earnest wish of Mr. Roosevelt and his friends that the nomination go to him. They regard him as the proper nominee of such a convention."

Work of Credentials Committee

Chicago, June 21.—No changes in the decisions of the Republican National Committee had been made by the Credentials Committee when it completed at 11:05 o'clock tonight a 38-hour session devoted to contest cases.

All but the Texas contests had been disposed of when the committee took its recess until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The last fight of the Roosevelt forces will center on the 30 delegates seated from Texas. One district in Virginia, the Fifth, was held open until morning for decision, although the committee practically had determined before adjournment to follow the ruling of the National Committee.

The cases decided by the Credentials Committee are as follows:

For Taft: Alabama 16; Arizona 6; Arkansas 16; California 2; Florida 12; Georgia 28; Indiana 12; Kentucky 17; Louisiana 20; Michigan 6; Washington 14; Mississippi 18; Oklahoma 2; South Carolina 2; Virginia 18; Missouri 6; District of Columbia 2; Alaska 2; Tennessee 8; Total 207.

For Roosevelt: Kentucky 1; North Carolina 6; Missouri 8; total 15.

While all of the contests passed on by the National Committee were reviewed by the Credentials Committee, the Roosevelt forces centered upon the 72 cases cited by Governor Hadley's resolution in the National convention as those where they claimed the National Committee had acted unfairly.

The Washington contest, over the protests of Senator Miles Poindexter that a Republican State organization had been guilty of grand larceny, from the Roosevelt forces, was decided in favor of the Taft delegates by a vote of 28 to 15. The Taft delegates from the Third Oklahoma district were seated 29 to 10. North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee district contests were settled without opposition except in the Second Tennessee district, where the Taft forces won 28 to 6.

NO "COME BACK" WHEN S.S.S. CURES

It is no trouble to get a medicine that will "patch up" or temporarily relieve a sick or diseased system. Take Rheumatism for instance; a good liniment or counter irritant will usually relieve the pain, but there is nothing in such measures to produce a permanent cure, and as soon as the effects of the local application have worn off the Rheumatism "comes back." Skin diseases may also be temporarily improved, at least on the surface, by glossing over the affected cuticle with cosmetics, lotions, "skin foods," creams, etc. But these external applications do not reach the cause and there is always a "come back" of the eruption.

Catarrh is a disease which a great many persons attempt to cure with local treatment. Patiently and hopefully douches, sprays, inhalations, etc. are used but no real good is ever accomplished in this way. The cause of Catarrh is in the blood and of course the miserable symptoms always "come back" until the circulation is cleansed of the catarrhal infection. Sores and ulcers is another "come back" trouble when treated with outward remedies. No salve, wash, plaster or lotion has the power to reach the blood, and until this is done and the germs driven out of the circulation, a chronic sore or ulcer cannot be permanently healed.

Strong mineral mixtures may temporarily check the activity of Contagious Blood Poison, and in this way dry up or remove the outward symptoms, but as soon as such treatment is left off, and the system reacts from its influence, the disease "comes back" and the sufferer finds he has been deceived.

The diseases spoken of above are all deep seated blood disorders, and only a real blood purifier can ever effect a permanent cure in any case. S. S. S. being the greatest of all blood purifiers is the remedy which is always able to cure when the blood is at fault. This medicine reaches down to the very bottom of any taint or infection and completely removes it from the circulation. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., and there is never any "come back" of the trouble. It cures on the only possible safe principle—that is it destroys the source of disease by making the blood pure, rich and healthy. If you have been disappointed by having some trouble "come back" on you, make sure this time by taking S. S. S. It will not disappoint you; it has cured thousands of all kinds of blood diseases and disorders. Forty years of cures is ample recommendation for the worth of S. S. S. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

THE STATE CHAIRMANSHIP

Interest In Who Will Be Named—May be Clyde Hoey, of Cleveland — Other Asheville Notes Of Interest

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., June 21.—During the excitement which is going on in Chicago and that which is coming at Baltimore, there is little room for interest in local or State politics. Nevertheless, there has been some conjecture as to who would be chosen as chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee at the meeting of the committee which is to be held in Raleigh July 1st. There has been a report current that Clyde R. Hoey, of Cleveland county, might be chosen for the place; that he was acceptable to Hon. Locke Craig, the Democratic nominee for Governor, and that as the wishes of the gubernatorial nominee were generally respected, Mr. Hoey was almost certain to be selected for the conduct of the campaign.

It appears, however, that he has not been selected by Mr. Craig. The Democratic nominee was seen about the report and said, "I do not know from whom the statement originated, nor have I authorized anyone to make such a statement.

Asheville has been chosen as the place of convention for the North Carolina Architects' Association. The meeting takes place July 12-15, and it is expected that about 100 architects will be in attendance. Besides the North Carolina architects, it is likely that several from Georgia, South Carolina and Tennessee will be here.

This morning in Superior Court Judge Long heard further evidence in the habeas corpus case which Mrs. Alma Hammett, of Meridian, Miss., has brought against Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Barnett, of Bryson City, for the possession of her four-year-old daughter. The case was taken up yesterday afternoon, but Judge Long did not render his decision this morning. Further hearing of the case was continued until July 8th, at Waynesville, while Judge Long is holding court there. He ordered that the first party which gave $2,000 bond could have possession of the child until that time and the respondents. Mr. and Mrs. Barnett complied with this condition at once.

Mrs. Hammett is a pretty young widow, who it is said, works in a cigar store at Meridian. According to her testimony she was married at 15 years of age and her husband died about the time the child was born, after which she lived with Mr. and Mrs. Barnett at Lyndale, Ga. In a short time she said, she was asked to leave and being unable to support the baby, was forced to leave it with the respondents. She claims that she is financially able to take care of the child.

It seems that the respondents took out adoption papers but that the mother was not made party to the suit.

The respondents contend that the child was given to them by the mother, that they have the legal right to it, and have become greatly attached to it.

A surveying party in charge of Prof. T. F. Hickerson, of the engineering department of the State university, today began to survey the last link in the "Crest of the Blue Ridge Highway," from Buck's creek gap to Stepp's gap. Prof. Hickerson was in the city yesterday getting camp supplies. There were nine young men in the party.

GAVE FARM TO ORPHANAGE.

Proceeds Will be Used for Girls' Dormitory—Jail Bird at Snow Hill.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 21.—Mrs. M. J. Jackson, of this city, has made a gift of a farm in Greene county to the Methodist orphanage at Raleigh. The farm is to be sold and the proceeds devoted to the erection of a girls' dormitory at the orphanage. The property is thought to be worth $10,000, and H. H. Grainger and Y. T. Ormond, of Kinston, who hold it in trust, were directed to make the sale by November 15th next. The new dormitory at Raleigh will fill an acute need, it is said, and Mrs. Jackson's gift is especially appropriate at this time. The gift has been accepted by the trustees, and the proper technical arrangements were made at a conference here between Mrs. Jackson, Messrs. Ormond and Grainger, trustees for the donation; Superintendent Cole, of the orphanage, and Supreme Court Justice Allen, a member of the board of trustees of the institution.

J. A. Edwards, Sr., aged 82 years, the oldest graduate at the time of his death of Trinity College, died at his home in Hookerton from stomach trouble. Mr. Edwards had been in feeble health since a stroke of paralysis ten years ago. He had been a member of Ormond's chapel, Methodist, for 71 years, and for more than a third of a century was a steward in the church. He was born on the farm on which he was buried, and spent all of his life, except a few years, there. Mr. Edwards graduated from Trinity in 1854 with the A. B. degree, and in 1857 took his A. M. there. He is survived by three sons, including H. C. Edwards, a prominent Kinstonian, and one daughter.

Prisoners in the Greene county jail at Snow Hill fired the building in order to escape, but their attempt was frustrated by officers, who perceived smoke issuing through the windows and cracks in the roof. "Pink" McLaren and Stephen Harper had built a fire on the wooden floor and covered it with an old bottomless heater; a pipe was ingeniously contrived to carry off the smoke with as little show as possible, and the plan of the men to burn a hole through the floor and use it as a means of escape. The stovepipe failed to work well, and the plan of the prisoners was foiled. McLaren and Harper are in prison for larceny. Both are negroes, the former from Ohio and suspected of having a previous criminal record.

Move on Now!

says a policeman to a street crowd, and whacks heads if it don't. "Move on now," says the big, harsh mineral pills to bowel congestion and suffering follows. Dr. King's New Life Pills don't bulldoze the bowels. They gently persuade them to right action, and health follows. 25c at R. R. Bellamy.

PAID THE DEATH PENALTY

Nash County Negro Electrocuted—Investigating Incendiary Fire

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 21.—G. G. Wilkins, the Nash county negro, paid the death penalty this morning in the State penitentiary for the murder of his wife near Spring Hope. Wilkins had received two respites pending effort of counsel to secure commutation to life imprisonment on the plea that the killing was not premeditated and that the prisoner was really weak-minded to the extent to merit executive clemency. However, the Goverhad refused to further interfere. The prisoner was taken into the death chamber at 10:30 and ten minutes later his body was delivered to the undertaker. Two shocks of the powerful current was required to produce death. A number of victims have required three and four. Wilkins claims to have killed his wife accidentally. But there was evidence of rows between them for a long while before the killing. Furthermore he wrapped the body in an old quilt and hid it under the corn crib and only told his story after the body was found by neighbors.

Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young, just back from Winston-Salem where the Stewart Bros., incendiary fire is being investigated by his inspectors, says progress is being made in the investigation of what is conceded to be the most remarkable preparation for fire ever known in this State. Investigation shows that Stewart Bros., carried $43,000 insurance, $33,000 of which was on printing outfit. Their inventory just before the fire showed $44,000 worth of material and it is understood that inventory just made by an expert puts the value at about $10,000.

Prof. W. N. Walker, supervisor of public high schools in North Carolina, says that the Summer school at the University of North Carolina is attaining record-breaking proportions. There are now 400 teachers enrolled, this being the second week of the school. The enrollment last Summer was 225.

There have been received here for distribution to the companies of the North Carolina National Guard signal flags in red, white and blue to be distributed to the companies by battalions and regiments in accordance with the new drill regulations.

On July 6th there is to be a final hearing before the Corporation Commission by representatives of the Seaboard Air Line and the Rockingham railroads involving the right of the Corporation Commission to intervene in the regulation of crossings where the two roads have special contracts. The last Legislature put control of all crossings in the hands of the Corporation Commission, and the Rockingham road officials contend that the Seaboard is making oppressive exactions as to the two crossings near Hamlet and near Rockingham. The Rockingham road has to bear all expense of the crossings and in addition to putting in the most expensive crossing equipment and keeping a watchman during the day when the Rockingham road is using the crossing, the Seaboard demands that the watchman be on duty all the time. They insist that all their other crossings have men on duty to set the crossings at safety on the approach of trains and that to have a different adjustment at these two would make it more likely that some engineer would overlook the exceptions and ditch trains. This is the first effort to break crossing contracts between railroads since the act was passed eighteen months ago. There was a preliminary discussion of the situation before the commission yesterday.

Notification to the State Department of Education that the town of Andrews, Cherokee county, has just voted a special bond issue of $10,000 brings to light the interesting fact that Andrews, a town of about 1,000 inhabitants has a school population of 556 and has averaged an increase of over fifty children each year for several years. The town takes better care of its schools than any other place in the State, population considered. There is maintained a special tax of 60 cents on the $100 valuation of property, a larger rate than any other place. J. Q. Parker is chairman of the school board and is enthusiastic over the record his town is making.

WILL CHANGE HOME OFFICE.

Jefferson Standard Controversy Decided—New Location Not Chosen.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 21.—The stockholders of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, in special session here today, voted to change the location of the home office from Raleigh to some other North Carolina city, to be selected by the directors, the object being to move the office to Greensboro, a movement of principally Raleigh stockholders having blocked plans to effect a merger with the Greensboro Life Insurance Co. There were 4,648 shares of stock represented in the meeting, and the vote stood 2,371 for removal and 2,277 against removal, a majority of 94 for removal. The vote followed a long discussion of the question, during which many Raleigh stockholders insisted that Raleigh should not be blamed for the action of the policy-holders' committee in blocking the merger, and holders of big blocks of shares, including Col. Walker Taylor and H. C. McQueen, of Wilmington, insisted that opposition was developed here and Raleigh must bear the blame and take her punishment if the vote should be for removal.

Since the afternoon meeting there has developed a movement to get cities other than Greensboro into the contest for the home office, and indications are that the question of selecting a new location will become quite complicated in the directors' meetings.

The stockholders elected two new directors, Frank H. Stedman, of Fayetteville, and G. H. Geitner, of Hickory. Later at a meeting of the directors, three other directors were elected, these were Dr. R. B. Graham, Wallace; S. H. Anderson, Wilson, and J. W. Johnson, Raeford.

"PAN-AMERICAN MAIL" LINE

First Steamer Loading at New Orleans For South America

New Orleans, June 21.—The first movement by New Orleans toward utilizing the Panama canal as a commercial asset was given practical impetus today when the steamship Inkum, of the Mississippi Valley, South America and Orient Steamship line, otherwise known as the "Pan-American mail," arrived at this port to load and sail with full cargo for Brazil and Argentine. She will carry the United States mail.

Two other ships will follow soon, both being booked to capacity. The service will continue to the eastern coast of South America until the canal is opened, when other ships will be sent through to the west side.

This is the first ship of an American company to sail from New Orleans to South America since the Civil war.

PITCHED BATTLE AT MEMPHIS

Policeman Killed and Negro Wounded, One Arrest Made

Memphis, June 21.—Six men, three of them negro desperadoes, engaged in a pitched battle, one policeman was killed, one negro wounded and one arrest made after a dozen reserves came to the aid of the posse here early today. John M. Taylor, 42, a patrolman, was killed. Two of the negroes escaped. Robert Sumner, said to have been the third, was taken.

The negroes are accused of having held up and robbed street car employes and passengers of small sums on different occasions in the past two months. Taylor was formerly a plantation manager at Ripley, Tenn.

Huhrow for Teddy!

A town which supports its newspaper is a good town.

Let the ex-President now head the "swat the fly" campaign.

Possibly the Rough Rider will finally consent to bolt a big dish of crow.

"It looks like Roosevelt," says a contemporary. Well, let us all hope it won't act like him.

Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader in New York, has endorsed the Gaynor boom. Boodbye, boom.

The Wilson band wagon is running in several sections so everybody can get on it after next Tuesday.

The Democrat who rocks the boat now ought to be thrown overboard so he can get in the swim with the other Jonahs.

By reason of his own faul, an ex-President has brought about his own repudiation in a National Republican convention.

If the women are given the right to vote, they will become more popular than ever. Their support will be courted by every candidate for office.

When he made his bluff entry into Chicago, the Colonel said: "By George it's bully to be here." Judging from his latest noise, he has cold feet on Chicago.

What has become of the old fashioned editor who used to believe that "Here the press the people's rights maintain, unawed by influence and unbribed by gain"?

A Congressman says there will be no use for the half cent piece. How about using it for the purpose of comparing witn it the value of a man who is stingy with his wife?

The three North Carolina Roosevelt delegates who voted for Root, the Taft chairman of the National convention, probably know the value of a straddle if either side should win.

Since none of the trusts are alarmed at the thought of the possibility of having Roosevelt for President, they must not object to his manner of busting trusts and crushing monopoly.

A Chicago judge, in ruling in a divorce suit, said: "A wife's kisses are best." That is a mere opinion. His judgment would be different if he had kissed different kinds of wives.

"It seems that a man can live on insects," says the Charleston News and Courier. However, insects find it easier to live on a man. The bravest men in the country hide behind bars to keep out of the way of a hungry mosquito.

The New York World says: "A pretty girl dressed in white cast a spell over the delegates at the Chicago convention." After all, the delegates are only men, and the further they get away from home the more they act like men.

A Wilmington lady who was tendered a vacation decided to spend it in Wilmington so she could enjoy herself at the seaside. She is afraid to leave Wilmington because she might miss the great enjoyment which she knows she can get here.

The charming State of California is one in which women have the right to vote, hold office and have all the civil rights of a man. If North Carolina women would go at once to California on that account, all North Carolinians would soon follow. Only a very few men with some peculiar gronch would remain here to tell the tale of the great hegira.

RICHMOND'S NEW PORT PLAN

The Star has several times commented upon the fact that Richmond is taking herself seriously as an inland port. Ocean steamers and sailing vessels of a certain class reach that city by the James river, and time has been when Richmond not only had considerable coastwise and river commerce, but her enterprising merchants did a large import business in coffee and other foreign merchandise. For some reason, the Virginia city's commerce declined, but her enterprising business men have at last waked up to the opportunity of Richmond when Panama canal traffic begins to give our Southern cities a chance at the Latin-American trade. That city's business men have begun to realize the value of their navigable water outlet to the ocean, and they have been early to recognize that chief factor in the protection of the advantages of their water traffic.

Richmond has put in municipal terminals and will make many improvements on the harbor front, dock basins and canal. These improvements will be quite extensive, and they have been undertaken as the result of newspaper influence. The Richmond papers have stressed the importance and necessity of municipal terminals in the matter of protecting the public as to freight rates, and it is well that the Virginia capital has not procrastinated but has gone to work in earnest. Her terminals will increase her commerce before the canal opens and they will be ready and in more complete and larger form when the Isthmian waterway is opened for traffic. Noting some of the new plans of Richmond, the Charlotte Observer says:

"Richmond has on foot a project for bringing herself nearly a hundred miles nearer the sea. She does not propose to pick up and move bodily, neither does she hope to lure the proud waves beyond where they are now stayed. Nor has she even a new project for straightening out the curves delivered by the River Jim. Richmond contemplates nothing less than the use of West Point's harbor, only thirty-four miles away by rail, instead of the long, winding passageway which does not quite reach her door at that. Through West Point, too, she would be assured a depth of channel never under twenty-four feet. She holds in mind, particularly, the case of Los Angeles, which has become a very important port, though over twice as far from the sea as the distance dividing Richmond from West Point.

"Richmond's West Point project is as though Wilmington had become tired of the long trip up the Cape Fear and decided to make a short cut across the New Hanover peninsula directly to the sea, substituting for the water route rails. It may well be, in fact, that with ever more efficient electric traction and ever larger ships Wilmington may establish an auxiliary port somewhere not far south of Wrightsville Beach, if the proper conditions can be found or made. As port cities grow important they become less and less dependent upon the wharfage or dockage immediately at hand. London's passage business is done through various ports other than her own, principally Southampton; and every one can foresee the time when New York's passenger steamers will take on and discharge passengers at Montauk Point, Long Island's eastermost extremity, instead of losing twenty-four hours by the long journey whose last and worst stage begins at Sandy Hook. Richmond is in a good position to use more than one port, and we see no reason why West Point should not supplement the facilities she has now."

Editor Harris, of the Observer, is aware of the fact that Wilmington can get coastwise traffic by way of Wrightsville as soon as the Intra-coastal Waterway is completed to that point. Cargoes can be discharged at Wrightsvilie and come by trolley line to Wilmington, so that when it is completed large barges, schooners and steamers can come by the inland route right to the wharves of Wilmington.

Work is now progressing on the canalization of the river between Wilmington and Fayetteville, and in about two years, with a minimum depth of 8 feet of water all the way to Fayetteville, some classes of steamers can sail from New York direct to Fayetteville. That delightful and enterprising North Carolina city also is laying great store on being an important inland port and considerable distributing point.

A REPUBLICAN PROPHECY

All the votes in the Chicago convention have clearly indicated the renomination of President Taft. It has been apparent from the beginning that ex-President Roosevelt has been doomed to defeat. He realized that as soon as he decided that it was necessary for him to go to Chicago to make a last stand to ward off defeat. His presence there has failed him. He realizes the inevitable. He faces defeat, but he does not do it gracfully. He knows he is defeated for he has declared his willingness to accept the nomination from a rump convention of "progressives," and if he cannot get a nomination in that way he will run anyhow. However, we do not suppose the "Seven Governors" have gone anywhere. They can get together again and re-echo the voice of the people.

Most all of us realize the desperate condition of the Republican party. It was bad enough before Roosevelt got into the game. He has destroyed any hope that the G. O. P., had of getting itself in shape for this fight, with a militant Democracy. This reminds us of a prophecy of Judge Duell, of New York, who heads the small Roosevelt force from that State. A few days ago he made the prediction that the nomination of Taft will put an end to the Republican party, as the organization would go to pieces just as the Whigs did because of the attitude assumed on the slavery question.

"If they nominate President Taft," says this Republican prophet, "it means the end of the Republican party. Taft's nomination would mean that the Republicans would not have seventy-five members in the next House."

With Republicans of prominence making such statements, the New Orleans States agrees with The Star that it is evident that the optimism of the Democrats is not based on false hopes. As a matter of fact the Republican party even now seems to be in the throes of dissolution, and its fate does not depend on the nomination that will come out of the strife at Chicago. There is reason to believe that the nomination of Roosevelt would be worse than the nomination of Taft, while the nomination of a dark horse, now regarded as impossible, would have no bearing on the result of the November election, because the party has been wrecked and the people are turning thir attention to Baltimore.

Judge Duell bases his prediction on the high-handed action of the National Committee. The delegates, he says, are being made by the committee and not the voters, who will resent its despotism at the polls, because American citizens, no matter with which party they may be affiliated, will not tolerate an open deprivation of their rights.

A NATION OF MUD THROWERS.

Probably the record will prove that we are a nation of mud throwers. This campaign is not the only one in Nation or State in which misrepresentation, villification, and libel was used to defeat a candidate. Our sensibilities have been greatly shocked and our National pride has had a great fall because of the fierce abuse which the two Republican candidates have heaped upon each other. However, there does not seem to be anything new in the campaign, for there have been others in the past. Going back into musty files, the North American Review digs up hard things that were said about even Lincoln when he faced the greatest crisis in the history of the nation.

One would assume from the contemporary attitude of the North toward Mr. Lincoln that he was not the feeble citizen that Mr. Roosevelt has described Mr. Taft, nor the dangerous factor in American politics Mr. Taft has pictured Mr. Roosevelt, but The Review has found in the newspapers of the '60s almost as vile abuse of Mr. Lincoln as the newspapers of today are printing of his successors.

Take for instance the New York Herald's editorial comment on the nomination of Mr. Lincoln: "He is a third-rate Western lawyer, poorer, even than Pierce," it said. "He is a fourth-rate lecturer, who cannot speak good grammar, and who, to raise the wind, delivers his hackneyed, illiterate compositions at $200 apiece. In return for the most unmitigated trash, interlarded with coarse and clumsy jokes, he filled his empty pockets with dollars coined out of Republican fanaticism."

The Albany Argus was equally as secere. "Last Spring," it said, "he made his debut in this State as an orator and commenced charging for his speeches at the rate of $200 apiece and was forced to desist amid such public expressions of contempt that he may be said to have been fairly hissed out of the State. He has never held public office of any credit and is not known except as a stlangwhanging stump speaker of a class with which every party teems and of which all parties are ashamed."

Quite as unkind was the Boston Post. "Lincoln," it said, "has merely a talent for demagogic appeal that was thought to be worth in New England $50 or $100 a speech by those who hired him; but some who heard him were surprised that he should be considered anywhere a great man. He can only be a fanatical tool of the fanatical host he will lead."

Other campaigns of the earlier days show that we had about as much mud-slinging as we have had in 1912. We seem to be addicted to it.

The initiative recognizes thepeople's right to originate something in their own interest. The referendum provides them a way to exercise the right of voting on questions that concern them. The recall is exercise of the people's right in discharge of the unfaithful incumbent of a public office.

CURRENT COMMENT.

In the investigation in Charleston Wednesday more than one confessed "blind tiger" brought in the name of Stothart, chief constable appointed by the Governor of the State, and some of them swore that they had arranged to buy protection from Stothart. Stothart denied these charges, but admitted that he had played poker with blind tigers and sometimes borrowed money from them. He also admitted that he is the intimate friend of the Governor. Whether or not Stothart remains a constable will have some bearing on the situation.—Columbia State.

We see from the Mississippi papers that the banks were offering a half a cent apiece for cotton boll weevils, and last week they increased the price to one cent, and not a weevil has been brought in. It is said that the freezing cold weather last Winter killed out the cotton boll weevil, and we may expect another bumper crop and low prices next Fall. We also see from the papers that the June frost of last week injured cotton in several sections of South Carolina—something never heard of before.—Whiteville News Reporter.

The dispensary probers struck a broad trail when they came into the blind tiger jungle of Charleston looking for graft. They could doubtless follow it back to the beginning, if they should take the trouble to go that far. Official record is being made of conditions that have been almost universally accepted from the first days of the dispensary. The corruption of constables by blind tigers in Charleston has been alleged and believed all along. Now that names have been called and specifications entered, the whole business should be taken to the courts by the prosecuting officers, and it is to be hoped that better results will come of the prosecution of the small grafters than have come of the prosecution of the big grafters of the dispensary system. The elephants have broken through the net of the law, but there may be some meshes that will hold the rats.—Charleston Post.

Some of the papers refer to the fact that William Jennings Bryan is reporting the Chicago convention, as if that were a new role with him. It is by no means his first experience in that line, 16 years ago he attended the Republican National convention in St. Louis for the Omaha World-Herald, and did excelent work. He was already a National figure and was considered a possibility as a Democratic candidate for the Presidency. But it was not until three weeks later, in the same Chicago, that he delivered his "cross of gold" speech that really put him "into the running." Later in that 1896 campaign and in this same Chicago, eggs and vegetables were thrown at him during a parade, but they did not appreciably affect him or his good nature. So Chicago has memories for this reporter, and as in St. Louis in 1896 he must have had some thought of Chicago in his mind, so today, in Chicago, he must think of Baltimore and its possibilities.—Greensboro News.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and Attorney General Wickersham are consulting with a view to prohibiting the future organization of small National banks in suburbs of cities. The National Bank Act stipulates that a bank of $25,000 capital may be organized in a "place" of less than 3,000 people and a bank of $50,000 capital in a "place" of 6,000 people, but in cities of 50,000 people banks must be capitalized at not less than $200,000. The Solicitor of the Treasury has held that the word "place" gives the Comptroller of the Currency authority to consider distinct portions of a city as separate from the city within the meaning of the law. Coney Island has thus been regarded as separate from Brooklyn and Greater New York. But the complications possible under this ruling were recently illustrated when a suburban bank of $25,000 near Oklahoma City moved up town after its suburb had been annexed and thereby became a small National bank in a city where such banks are not supposed to be allowed. The second suit in the country's history for the revocation of a National bank charter has been instituted against this bank.—Charlotte Observer

ANSWERS BRYAN

Gov. Marshall Refuses to Help Fight Judge Parker

Indianapolis, Ind., June 21.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall, candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, today sen to Colonel Bryan a telegram asserting that he could not show preference for any one who might be chosen for temporary chairman of the National convention, especially Judge Parker. His telegram follows:

"You may be right, but as Judge Parker as a member of the Committee on Resolutions from the State of New York at the National convention at Denver, helped to report our platform of 1908 and as he came to Indiana that year to advocate your election, as well as mine, and as he returned in 1910 to advocate the election of Senator Kern, I do not see how his selection as temporary chairman will result in a reactionary platform in 1912. I am not a delegate to the convention and as the choice of the party in Indiana for the nomination for President, I deem it inappropriate for me to attempt to dictate to the lawfully constituted party authority, who shall or who shall not preside at the convention."

SUMMONED TO CHICAGO.

Virginia Delegate Leaves Post-haste for Windy City.

Williamsburg, Va., June 21.—Bathurst D. Peachy, a well known lawyer and prominent in Republican politics, and who was elected an alternate to the Chicago convention, received a telegram this morning from Alvah Martin, calling him posthaste to the Windy City. The telegram made it imperative that he should come, saying his principal, Mr. Vawter, had gone home. Peachey had 20 minutes to catch the train for the West. This makes it appear that the Taft leaders are worried and that the voting is very close. Mr. Peachy was inclined to be for Roosevelt and may cause some trouble in the Virginia delegation if he gets stirred up and in the fight.

Youthful, Wrinkleless Skin Easy to Have

(Elberta Reid in Woman's Tribune)

You who desire to regain a youthful appearance will do well to make the acquaintance of the two simple, but valuable prescriptions here given.

To make an effective wrinkle-chaser, mix an ounce of saxolite and a half pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in the solution—immediately every wrinkle is affected. It acts wonderfully on sagging facial muscles, also, the lotion possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

To get rid of an aged, faded or discolored complexion, buy an ounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store and apply nightly as you would cold cream, erasing this mornings with soap and water. This will slowly absorb the undesirable surface skin, revealing the younger, brighter, healthier skin underneath. I know of nothing to equal this treatment as a facial rejuvenator.

BIGGEST REALTY DEAL YET

Worth Property Sold Yesterday to Fidelity Investment & Development Company for Over $150,000—Pate Agency.

Probably the largest real estate transaction ever made in Wilmington, and one of the largest of its kind in the State, was closed yesterday when the Fidelity Investment & Development Company purchased from the owners, through the A. W. Pate real estate agency, what is known as the Worth property, on the water front, for a consideration of upwards of $150,000, it is said.

Embracing as it does probably the largest area of any single tract in the business district, the Worth property is one of the most valuable pieces of realty in the city. The property includes the two-story brick building now occupied by Worth & Worth, at the northeast corner of Grace and Nutt streets, and also the buildings now occupied by Brown, Toon & Co., Swift & Co., Armour & Co., extending back north 198 feet to an alley.

It also has a depth of 500 feet through which the Atlantic Coast Line has a right-of-way leased for 25 years, and a river frontage of 200 feet, which at present is being used by the Clyde Line Steamship Company, for its docks and warehouses.

This property has been on the market as a whole for only a short time, being listed with the Pate agency only a few weeks ago. For the past several weeks Messrs. A. W. Pate and Joseph J. Loughlin have devoted practically all their time to the matter, and its early sale demonstrates their ability to swing a big deal.

With this deal the Fidelity Investment & Development Company inaugurates the opening of their new offices at No. 14 Princess street, which are probably the most modern offices of the kind in the State, consisting of eight beautifully furnished private offices, all furniture and fixtures being made by the Derby Desk Company in Mission finish.

Mr. C. E. Greenamyer, who came from Pittsburg several months ago and who was formerly identified with Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans before his death in the oil business, is president of the company, and Mr. D. N. Chadwick, Jr., one of Wilmington's brightest young business men, is secretary and treasurer.

The changing hands of this property is but another evidence of the rapid expansion of Wilmington's business growth and augurs very forcibly for the future prosperity of the port.

It is the purpose of the Fidelity Investment & Development Company to offer certain sections of their newly acquired property for sale and to hold the balance for future distribution.

MRS. THOMPSON PASSES.

Mother of Mr. J. E. Thompson, Managing Editor of The Star.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 21.—Mrs. Margaret Thompson, aged 67 years, died this evening about 7 o'clock. Mrs. Thompson had been sick for some time and while her death was no surprise it has cast a gloom over the entire community. She is survived by four children, Mrs. L. T. Townsend, of Lumberton; Mr. J. E. Thompson, general manager and vice president of The Wilmington Star; Dr. Dunlap Thompson, of Morven, N. C., and Mr. Albert Thompson, of Lumberton. The hour for the funeral has not yet been decided upon, but the interment will be in the family cemetery near Iona Presbyterian church, 14 miles southwest of here, where her husband, the late N. J. Thompson, was laid to rest 18 months ago.

Mr. Joseph E. Thompson will have the most heartfelt sympathy of hundreds of people in this city in his great sorrow. He had been in Lumberton at the bedside of his mother since last Friday, having received a telegram at that time announcing her serious illness. While her health had not been good for the past year her condition did not become serious until the latter part of last week and her loved ones then realized that the end was only a matter of a few days.

A message received late last night from Lumberton was to the effect that the funeral would be held today but did not say at what hour.

ACTON ON BRIDGE CONTRACT

Meeting of County Commissioners Yesterday Afternoon—Proportion of Expenses to be Borne by Each County Settled.

For the purpose of taking final action on the contract for a bridge over the Northeast river, between New Hanover and Pender counties, the Board of County Commissioners met in special session yesterday afternoon at the Court House. All members were present; also Clerk John Haar and County Attorney Marsden Bellamy. Chairman D. McEachern presided.

Chairman McEachern called the meeting to order and stated its purpose. Commissioner M. W. Divine, of the New Hanover Bridge Committee, stated that they had received from the Pender Commissioners the triplicate contract, duly signed by the chairman of the board. He also stated that a certified statement from the clerk of the Pender board had been received, showing the number of listed polls in that county at the last election, and that according to those figures and the figures showing the number of listed polls in New Hanover, the latter county would pay 65.25 per cent. of the cost of the bride, while Pender would pay 34.75 per cent. On a basis of $40,000, which it is thought the total cost of the bridge will be, New Hanover county will pay $26,100, while Pender will pay $13,900.

Commissioner Metts then moved that the chairman be directed to sign the contract and the clerk to attest it under the seal of New Hanover county. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Divine and all voted aye with the exception of Chairman McEachern, who asked that his vote be recorded as "No". He made a short statement, declaring that he knew the bridge matter was going through and that he was not seeking to delay action, but that he had been opposed to the site upon which the bridge is to be located from the first and that furthermore he did not think it was right to place the county in debt. He said that he did not wish his vote to be inconsistent with his position on the matter when it first came up.

Following this Commissioner Divine moved that the clerk be instructed to forward the triplicate contract, by registered mail, to the Virginia Bridge & Iron Company, for the signature of its officers, and that he be further instructed to send to the Pender board a certified statement as to the number of listed polls in New Hanover county. The motion also embodied instructions for the clerk to notify the Pender board that the proportionate part of the expenses to be borne by both counties had been inserted in the contract. This motion was also carried, and the chairman instructed the clerk to carry it out, following which the board took a recess.

THE LUMINA ORCHESTRA.

New Member of Splendid Musical Organization—Concerts Begin.

Visitors to Lumina, Wrightsville Beach, will learn with interest and pleasure that the splendid Lumina Orchestra is to have an additional member in the person of Mr. J. W. Saucke, who arrives today. Mr. Saucke has been connected with the Lyceum Theatre at Toledo, Ohio, for the past three seasons. He is considered one of the leading cornetists in the musical world and he will add greatly to an already fine orchestra.

The present orchestra at Lumina is one of the most remarkable that can be found at any Summer resort in that it is equally as entertaining in concert work as in dance. It is seldom that a combination of 11 men attempt and conquer such difficult compositions as appear on the Lumina programmes. The new cornetist will remain with Director Kneisel's orchestra and will go to Altoona, Pa., with the orchestra for the regular Winter engagement.

Beginning with today regular concerts will be given at Lumina on Saturday afternoons. The time for these concerts will be from 4 to 5:30 P. M. A very attractive programme has been arranged for the concert to be given this afternoon. Among the numbers on the programme are the "Light Cavalry" overture by Von Supper; "The Ghost Dance," by Rossiter, a Strausse waltz, and a cornet solo by Mr. Cox.

CLOSING SESSIONS HELD

Annual Meeting of Woman's Missionary Union of Wilmington Presbytery Brought to an End. River Trip Today.

The 24th annual session of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Wilmington Presbytery, which convened in the First Presbyterian church church Thursday morning, came to an official close following the afternoon session yesterday, though the delegates attended a meeting last night at which an address and stereopticon views on mission matters were much enjoyed. This morning the delegates will visit Carolina Beach, going down on the steamer Wilmington as guests of Capt. Jno. W. Harper. While at the resort they will enjoy an old fashioned fish dinner as guests of the Brotherhood Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church.

With Mrs. Jackson Johnson, the president, psesiding, the morning session began yesterday at 9:45. It was opened with a praise service led by Mrs. L. D. Latta. The room was filled with delegates and friends of missions and many of those rose and mentioned blessings for which they desired to return thanks. Then followed an affectionate and impressive memorial service led by Mrs. W. M. Cumming. Among the missionaries of the Southern Presbyterian Church only one has died during the past year, Miss Nellie Rankin, of Korea. Memorials were offered for eleven members of the Union who have died since last year.

Following this service reports were heard from the individual societies of the Union through their delegates. The county vice presidents reported what had been done in organizing county societies. It was suggested by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. T. Bannerman, that as an aid to the county vice president, in sparsely settled districts a home department be organized. Mrs. Geo. C. Worth reported on hand $268.25 toward the maternity room of the proposed woman's ward, with more promised. Miss Eliza Murphy, agent for the woman's ward, made her report, showing what has been and what remains to be accomplished.

The Union was invited to Black River for the annual day of prayer in the Autumn and to Whiteville for the annual meeting next June. Both invitations were accepted.

Miss Rida Jouroimon, missionary from Kiang Yin, China, addressed the Union on the influence of Christianity on the heathen nations of the world. She spoke of the present transition period in China, where everything is chaotic and the very occupations of many of the people are being taken away, especially of those villages where the livelihood comes from the manufacture of articles for idol worship. She compared the newly emancipated and enfranchised Chinese woman to the blind and helpless silk work moths, and declared that their development from this time on will be rapid and marvelous. The speaker said that they are looking with great eagerness to the churches of America and England to help them in their new life. She also said that there are now 100,000 Chinese for each Protestant missionary.

Rev. W. H. Hudson, a returned missionary from China, delivered the next address, speaking on the new woman in China from the man's standpoint. He compared the old position of the Chinese girls, unwelcome of birth, untrained, untaught and neglected, to the new vision that has come to the women that they can learn, that they have souls, and that Christianity has opened the doors of hope to them. Mr. Hudson gave encouraging incidents illustrating the future possibilities for the women, especially in their homes.

At the conclusion of the morning service the Orphans' Aid Society served lunch in the Chadbourn Memorial Hall to the entire audience. The social hour was a most enjoyable feature of the day.

The afternoon session convened promptly at 2:30 o'clock, opening with a praise service led by Mrs. Geo. C. Worth. Mrs. B. F. Hall gave a fine report from the young girl who has the scholarship at the Lees-McRae Institute, in the mountains of this State. This Union has raised $500 toward a $1,000 scholarship, Fayetteville Union raised the other $500.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing two years:

Mrs. Jackson Johnson, president; Mrs. A. D. McClure, first vice president; Mrs. R. E. L. Brown, second vice president; Mrs. W. T. Bannerman, corresponding secretary; Miss Mary Sloan, recording secretary and treasurer; Mrs. J. C. Stewart, agent young people's work; Miss Katherine Newton, agent May Johnson loan fund; Miss Eliza Murphy, agent hospital fund.

A question of an amendment to the constitution as to a limit to the term of service of officers came up and it was decided to have the matter settled at the next annual session. Mrs. W. M. Cumming was elected Union delegate to Montreat.

The secretary announced that the recent General Assembly had granted the overtures of many Presbyteries asking that a woman be appointed as general secretary for woman's missionary work.

The banner society of the Union was announced, the Home Missionary Society, which gave $9.88 per member. The banner society for the young people's work is the Clarkton band, which gave $9.55 per member.

At the close of the business session Mrs. L. W. Curtis, a returned missionary, delivered an address on "Vision and Service." She commenced her address with a description of a sanctuary group in which the chief figure was that of a woman with her hand on the head of a child, and this, Mrs. Curtis said, was and always will be the highest attitude for woman, the protection and help of the helpless which can only follow the broadest vision of duty. The speaker emphasized the thought that no one need want for a special call, as every need was a call to service. She told very beautifully of the lives of two women who had this vision of a call to service, Mary Lyon, who founded Mt. Holyoke, and Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, who devoted her life to serving the neglected women and children of the world.

Miss Isabel Arnold followed with an address on "Intelligent Prayer," which she prefaced with some introductory remarks on Presbyterial visitors. She referred to the previous talk on vision and declared that the need is for more vision in prayer life.

The meeting was brought to a close with a consecration service led by Mrs. R. E. L. Brown, of Chadbourn.

At the meeting last evening Rev. Lacy I. Moffitt, of Kiangyin, China, who is connected with the mission station and hospital at that place which is supported by the First Presbyterian church of this city, delivered a most interesting address upon the work that is being done there. Dr. Geo. C. Worth, the surgeon in charge of the Kiangyin Hospital, also told of the work and his talk was illustrated by attractive stereopticon views of the hospital grounds and buildings, the different phases of the work, etc.

The river trip and the dinner at Carolina Beach today will be one of the most interesting features connected with the meeting of the Union. The delegates will leave the city on the steamer Wilmington, as guests of Capt. Jno. W. Harper, at 9 o'clock. At noon they will enjoy a seafood dinner as guests of the Brotherhood Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church. The return to the city will be made about 2 P. M., and the visitors will depart for their homes in the evening.

NARROWLY ESCAPED DROWNING

Miss Mildred Deppie Fainted In Surf And Pulled Girl Companion Down With Her—Saved by Negro Maid

Emily Muldrow, a colored maid at the Hanover Seaside Club, Wrightsville Beach, yesterday afternoon saved Miss Mildred Deppie from almost certain death by drowning and also probably saved the life of Miss Marie Long, who had been pulled under the water in her efforts to hold Miss Deppie above the surface when she had fainted.

Only prompt medical attention served to bring Miss Deppie around, and even then she was unconscious for several hours. At 10 o'clock last night she was in a semi-conscious condition, but it was stated at that time that practically all danger had passed and that her recovery was only a matter of a day or so. Miss Long suffered no ill effects from her experience.

Both young ladies are employed at the C. W. Polvogt Co., department store, Miss Deppie being the cashier. She complained of feeling unwell yesterday and Mr. Polvogt, the proprietor, advised her to take the afternoon off and spend it at the seaside. She was accompanied by Miss Long. After their arrival at the Hanover Club Miss Deppie felt so much improved that the young ladies decided to go in surf bathing. They secured bath suits and were in the surf just in front of the club house. Miss Deppie fainted and Miss Long went to her rescue, being pulled under the water herself.

The colored woman was in the dining room of the club house when her attention was attracted to the plight of the two young ladies by Mrs. Bowen, wife of Captain Bowen, superintendent of the club.

The colored woman immediately ran across the beach and waded out to where the two girls were, bringing them ashore. Capt. Bowen had arrived by this time and the young ladies were carried to the club house. Dr. J. B. Cranmer was on the beach and he was sent for. The usual measures of resusciation were applied and Miss Deppie finally was pronounced out of danger, though she did not regain consciousness for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Polvogt hurried to the beach as soon as they had heard of the occurrence, and they spent the night there lending every possible assistance to make the young woman comfortable. Miss Long also remained at the club house with her companion. It is expected that Miss Deppie will be completely recovered in several days.

The brave colored woman who saved the young woman by her prompt action and presence of mind deserves much credit.

MR. HOTTAL REMEMBERED

A. C. L. Yard Men Present Former Chief With Token of Esteem

Following the resignation of Mr. Frank K. Hottal, for many years general yardmaster on the A. C. L. yards here, was waited upon at his home a few days ago by a committee composed of Messrs. D. M. Easterling, J. A. Everett, J. P. Howell, C. A. Bradshaw and R. L. Allen, who through Mr. Howell, who acted as spokesman, presented their retiring chief with a beautiful Elk's emblem and locket.

Mr. Howell proffered the gift in a neat speech in whic he voiced the sentiments of all those who were employed on the yards during Mr. Hottal's term of office, expressing regrets at his retirement and wishing him success in the new field which he will enter shortly.

The pleasant little occurrence was a complete surprise to Mr. Hottal, but in his usual clever way he spoke feelingly of his long association with his men his "boys" as he always called them, closing his remarks with particular references to the loyal and friendly spirit which promoted the token of love and esteem, adding that it was just such happy occasions which served to smooth the rought places in the path of life and perpetuate pleasant memories.

MEETING WAS POSTPONED

Council Will Hold Session Monday to Consider Matter of Installing Incinerator and to Discuss Sewerage Plan.

The special meeting of the City Council called for yesterday morning to consider the demand of the County Board of Health that an incinerator be installed immediately and to discuss again the proposition of constructing a municipal sewerage system, did not materialize. At the hour for the meeting the two Councilmen in charge of the departments in which the matters for consideration are listed were not present, so it was decided by the three members present to postpone the meeting until Monday morning at 9:15 o'clock.

The members not present were Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, who was under the impression that the meeting was to be held at 10 o'clock, and Councilman Perdew. Councilman B. C. Moore arrived about 9:30 o'clock, but it had already been decided to postpone the meeting.

Members of Council discussed informally the comments that have recently been made with reference to the budget for the present fiscal year as compared with the budget for Charlotte, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, was instructed to prepare a statement, giving the comparative figures, to be presented at the next regular meeting of the Council. The information furnished may be given out by the Council in reply to the comments referred to.

It is understood that Councilman B. C. Moore will recommend to Council at the meeting Monday that the city take steps immediately to install an incinerator for the destruction of carrion and garbage and that a disposal basin be constructed just south of the city for the refuse from the surface closets. The disposal basin will cost probably $25,000 or $30,000, it is said, but the idea is to later make it a part of the municipal sewerage system.

City Engineer F. F. Pillett was present yesterday morning to place before the Council the modified plans for a municipal sewerage system which he was instructed to prepare at the regular meeting Wednesday. The idea is to sewer the northern, eastern and southern sections of the city and not disturb the Wilmington Sewerage Co., which is taking care of the central portion of the city. While this idea was discussed at the executive session Wednesday, at which the city engineer was instructed to modify the original plans, it was not by any means the first time members of Council had considered the proposition, and it was generally conceded before the executive session by those who had kept informed on the matter that there could hardly be any other outcome.

Whether Council will decide to accept the modified plans or adhere to the original plans is a matter to be decided at the meeting Monday. The city engineer may be instructed to further modify the plans. It seems to be the desire of the Council to sewer just as much of the city as possible with the money now available for this purpose and leave the controversy with the Wilmington Sewerage Co., to be settled at some future time. There has been no effort on the part of the Council to keep secret its attitude in this regard and it was generally known on the afternoon of Wednesday's meeting that Council had asked the engineer to make certain changes in the plans.

Messrs. Will Rehder and Geo. H. Hutaff have again made complaint to the city officials that the sanitary department stables near Rankin and Wood streets, in close proximity to property owned by them, are in an unsanitary condition and have also complained about the cleaning of sanitary department cans at the disposal plant of the sewerage company. They threaten to seek relief through the courts unless the alleged nuisance is abated. Councilman B. C. Moore, Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, and Mr. Rehder visited the stables together late yesterday afternoon. Councilman Moore said that the conditions there were not what might be expected to be found in a parlor, but that he did not see any occasion for so much excitement over the matter. However, he will make recommendations to Council that steps be taken to remove all ground for complaint. The matter will receive attention at Monday's meeting.

INJURED ONES IMPROVING

All Those Hurt In Street Car Accident Except One Reported Better

All those injured in the street car accident at Ninth and Dock streets Thursday night were reported yesterday as improving rapidly and would soon be out again, with the exception of Rachel Johnson, colored, nurse for Mrs. C. L. Meister, Dr. Russell Bellamy, who is attending her, reported to officials of the Tidewater Power Company, that at present it is impossible to tell whether her injuries are serious or not. It was learned yesterday that Maggie Andrews, colored, nurse for Mrs. John LeGwin, was also slightly injured in the accident. She was the only one of the injured who remained in the car, as all the others were hurt by jumping. She is also improving.

Dr. Russell Bellamy is making an effort to procure a Carnegie medal for Rachel Johnson, who though painfully injured herself, kept the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Meister from injury. Dr. Bellamy was largely instrumental in securing a Carnegie medal for young Mr. Cottle, of this city, who saved the young son of Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Caldwell in a runaway accident several years ago.

MRS. CAROLINE M'LEAN DEAD

Aged Lady Passed Away at Her Home At Carthage Last Sunday

Many friends of the family in this city will read with regret of the death of Mrs. Caroline McLean, which occurred at her home at Carthage, last Sunday. The following is from this week's issue of the Moore County News, published at Carthage:

"Mrs. Caroline McLean, relict of the late Hugh C. McLean, died at the home of her son, C. C. McLean, near Carthage, on last Sunday morning, at 10 o'clock in the 86th year of her age. Mrs. McLean before marriage was Miss Caroline Hill, of Wilmington, where she was born and reared and belonged to one of the most prominent and influential families of the Cape Fear section. She had lost her sight several years ago and had been in declining health for some time. The deceased was a member of Saint John's Episcopal church at Wilmington, and was laid to rest at the Presbyterian church on Monday, Rev. J. K. Roberts preaching the funeral and conducting the burial services.

"Mrs. McLean was a lady in every sense of the word and belonged to the old school now so rapidly passing away. A mother in Israel has fallen and a good woman gone to her reward. The bereaved have the sympathy of their friends in this hour of sorrow."

—Many friends of Mr. R. H. Fetner will regret to learn that he will no longer make Wilmington his home. Mr. Fetner holds a position with the Seaboard Air Line as baggage master and will run between Raleigh and Columbia.

FERRELL-MITCHELL

Kinston, N. C., June 21.—One of the most beautiful weddings ever celebrated in this city took place at St. Mary's Episcopal church, when Edward Vernon Ferrell, of Winston-Salem, and Miss Hazel Mitchell, daughter of Mrs. A. Mitchell, of Kinston, were united in marriage. The church was prettily decorated with palms, smilax and white lilies, with a touch of pink here and there to carry out the color scheme. The altar was covered with white smilax and lighted with cathedral candles. The ceremony was performed according to the Episcopal ritual by Rev. J. H. Griffith, rector of St. Mary's church.

The groom is from one of Winston-Salem's leading families, and has a large circle of friends here, where he was engaged in the tobacco business for some time. The bride is a well-known young society woman of this city, popular and accomplished. Both are known throughout North Carolina society. The happy couple left for an extended Northern tour, after a reception tendered by the bride's mother.

The out-of-town guests were numerous, from many points in this and other States.

MR. BERNARD C. BOWEN MARRIES IN CINCINNATI

The following from the Cincinnati Post relative to the marriage of Miss Gertrude Adelaide Knapp and Mr. Bernard C. Bowen, son of Rev. H. C. Bowen, pastor of the Christian church in Wilmington, will be read with interest:

"Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Spencer's attractive country place in Milford, which takes its name, 'Roselawn,' from the many beautiful bushes which dot its landscape, was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon, when Miss Gertrude Adelaide Knapp, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knapp, was married to Mr. Bernard C. Bowen, a young attorney. The house, which is of that generous type of the Southern home of a generation ago, with rambling porches along the sides and in front, is at its best in June, with all its flowers and shrubs abloom. Within, it was a bower of pink and white beauty. The wedding ceremony was performed in the reception room under a canopy of green smilax, to either side of which rose graceful, tall white wicker vases of Easter lilies. The ushers. Messrs. Walter Timmerman and the groom's brother-in-law, Frank Bedford, of Lexington, Ky., led the bridal procession down the steps from the second floor across the hall to the altar, to the murmur of harps and violins. Following them came the minister, the Rev. A. W. Fortune, and then the groom and his best man, the Rev. Boyd Edwards. A dainty little flower girl, Elizabeth Knapp, niece of the bride, came next in the procession, wearing a dainty frock of white lace over pink silk, and scattering pink sweet peas from a French basket, which she carried. The matron of honor, Mrs. Benjamin Kissel, in white embroidered net over pink satin, and carrying a shower of pink sweet peas, preceded the bride who, with her brother, Mr. A. J. Knapp, closed the procession. She is tall and fair and was very pretty in a white satin bridal gown made princess effect, the tunic caught up to one side with a cluster of orange blossoms and her veil held with a spray of the same bridal flowers. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas—a flower that also brightened the bridal procession, in boutonniers for the groom, best man and ushers.

"Following the wedding, a reception was held, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Robert Harrison, of Price Hill, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Frank Bedford, of Lexington, Ky., receiving with bride and groom. Mrs. Spencer wore a lovely Irish crochet gown over white silk; Mrs. Harrison was in white embroidered voile and Mrs. Bedford wore a dainty Summer lingerie gown. The wedding supper was served on the lawn, the bride's table placed near the rose garden, and seating fourteen intimates. The buffet table was placed near it under the trees. About one hundred and fifty guests were present. After their honeymoon trip, Mr. Bowen and his bride will reside for a time in Mt. Auburn and will go housekeeping this Fall in a home of their own in Hyde Park."

Methodist Lads Won.

Playing between showers, the Fifth Street Methodist team defeated the Episcopalians at the Parsley diamond at Hilton yesterday afternoon by the score of 7 to 5. Despite the weather conditions, the contest was well played and interesting. The features were the hitting of Morton for the Episcopalians and Riley and Dickson for the Methodists. Vereen, for the Episcopalians, made a clever catch in center field. Batteries, for the Methodists, Dickson and Todd; for the Episcopalians, Harriss and Morton.

At the Bijou

Ever alert to get the very latest, the most timely in interest and the most fascinating, it is with pleasure that the new Bijou, the home of solid comfort and dispenser of the blues, announces that it will today present a film of the Italian war with Turkey. This offering is alone extraordinary, although it will not be given singly, as the Bijou will not curtail its programme in the slightest. This particular star film is called "A Soldier's Heart" and the scenes are laid in the Turkish possessions, which are now the scene of such bloody fighting, and actual scenes of battle are shown. Through the entire film, which bristles with wartime excitement and is interesting on account of views of the rugged country, there runs a pretty story, an actual occurrence. It is not a love story, but yet one of heart interest. The central figures are a brave Italian soldier and a little Arab girl.

Another exceptional film is also on today and is a big educational photoplay, "Messina as it is Today." This film is full of rich information and it shows the progress made in the rebuilding of Messina, where the terrible earthquake created such destruction. There are plenty of other new films, including one of the cleverest comedy ones ever offered, "The Missent Letter."

At the Grand.

For today the Grand is well prepared to take care of and delight the usual large Saturday throngs. "Fire and Straw", a new Lubin release, will head the bill, and will be a feature well worth coming downtown to see. It deals with the daughter of a minister who becomes a settlement worker. She soon becomes very popular and during her rounds through the slums meets Jack Burr, "a wicked but handsome man.' He makes love to her, but she will not hear him. Finally she hears him planning a burglary and with her father thwarts the robbers by telling the president of the firm to be robbed. The ruse worked to capture them brings about Jack's redemption and, of course, in the end "all's well that ends well." Another feature will be "The Passion Flower," an Edison picture, which is a screaming comedy from start to finish. This film is one thousand feet long and every inch is calculated to bring smiles to the audience. Another good one will be given in addition to these two topliners.

SMALL ADVANCE IN COTTON

An Early Rise Was Not Maintained —Trading Was Less Active— Close Was Steady and Higher—News Favorable

New York, June 21.—An early advance in the cotton market was not fully maintained and trading was much less active, but the close was steady and from 2 to 6 points net higher.

The opening was steady at an advance of 6 to 8 points in response to unexpected firmness in Liverpool and over-night buying orders caused by the steadier tone of the local market late yesterday. The early weather map showed very favorable growing conditions in the South and with the forecasts suggesting its continuance there was considerable cotton for sale around the initial figures. Prices eased off 3 to 4 points in consequence, but as Liverpool continued steady the decline here administered heavy arbitrage buying which, in connection with continued support from trade sources and covering of shorts, soon caused renewed firmness. After the close of Liverpool had shut out most of the foreign buying, and the market here had shown a net advance of about 10 to 12 points, or a gain of some 25 points from the low level of yesterday morning, the buying movement slackened. Offerings did not become aggressive, but with private crop news generally very favorable there was more or less scattered selling during the afternoon and prices eased off four or five points from the best in the late trading. Week-end figures attracted little attention.

Receipts 2,038 bales, against 2,704 last week, and 1,406 last year. To-day's receipts at Galveston 751 bales against 545 last year; at New Orleans four against 53 last year, and at Houston 120, against 1,267 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands, 11.65; middling gulf, 11.90; sales, none.

Market Divorces Itself From Politics For Short While and Steers Independent Course—Rise Was General

New York, June 21—For a brief time today the stock market acted as if it had decided to divorce itself from politics and all other things not exactly germane to financial conditions by steering an independent course.

That was in the first hour when the volume of business assumed respectable proportions and gains were general, though in no important instance much over a point. The advance embraced such a variety of issues as to convey an impression of investment demand. Then came the news that the convention at Chicago might run over into next week, and the market beat a slow but sure retreat. By early afternoon nothing remained of the movement, except a few sporadic advances in high-priced non-speculative issues such as American Tobacco and the Texas Company. For the remainder of the session the market settled down to aimless drift.

The bond market moved unsteadily with trifling changes. Total sales, par value amounted to $2,682,000. United States government's unchanged on call. Total sales 289,800 shares.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Activity in Industrial Circles Continues—Crop Reports.

New York, June 21.—Bradstreet's tomorroy will say:

Improved crop reports and continued activity in industrial circles present the more pleasing aspects of an otherwise quiet trade situation. Jobbers and wholesale dealers in textiles and dressed goods are taking fabrics for Fall and Spring, and in some instances, men's wear, for example, are noted for the higher prices as raw wool seems to presage higher quotations on finished goods. In fact, an advance of 5 per cent. has already been made on broad cloths, and worsted yarns will probably go higher. But on the whole the general tendency is to operate cautiously to give some attention to politics and to await clearer views as to probable crop results. However, there is no pessimism, just caution, and it is noteworthy that political matters do not cause any real concern.

Shoes at wholesale are dull because of high prices. Collections are not above fair and are especially slow in the South, where trade continues dull.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending June 20th were 266 against 266 last week and 222 in the like week of 1911.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Prices Have Declined Owing to Favorable Weather—Another Report on Acreage Shows Very Little Decrease

New York, June 21.—Prices declined owing to good rains in Texas, favorable weather in the Eastern section and the report on the acreage by the Financial Chronicle putting the total at only .54 of one per cent less than that of a year ago, whereas most reports have stated that there would be a decrease in the area of 5 to 7 1-2 per cent. Previous to this there had been steady liquidation by large Wall Street bull interests and some scattered liquidation in other directions. The generality of the crop reports have been favorable from Texas and an improvement has been noted also in the crop areas from the great section east of the Mississippi river. On Wednesday, however, came the report about the acreage already mentioned, putting it at a far higher total than most people had expected and this seemed to "cap the climax." It stated the total at 37,377,276 acres, against 37,581,922 last year. The government figures on last year's acreage, according to the corrected data, were 36,681 acres. Liverpool prices have shown the effects of that cheerful crop news. On the other hand, however, the spot demand had continued unabated, both at home and abroad.

Liverpool's daily spot sales have been from 10,000 to 18,000 bales. It is noticed too, that on the decline some large Wall Street interests, long identified with the bull side, but which recently sold out, have latterly been buying again. Some of the Waldorf-Astoria element also appear to have bought on the break which has occurred during the week. Large spot houses have, it appears, been buying at times on quite a liberal scale. Some of them are getting reports from the South which make it very clear that the better grades of cotton are being held with a tenacity which defies downward reactions from time to time in the market for futures. Many in the trade too, seriously questioned the correctness of reports putting the decrease in acreage at less than one per cent and they are of the opinion that the government report on the subject which will be published July 3rd will make it very plain that the decrease is much greater or somewhere between five and seven per cent. They also maintain that it is useless to expect any serious or permanent decline in cotton as long as the spot demand continues so active and persistent. Just now it is considered a case of perfect weather versus a big demand with the spot demand inclined to be the more potent factor.

EVELYN THAW TESTIFIES.

Protests Bitterly When Called Upon to Tell of Early Life.

White Plains, N. Y., Juie 21.—Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw protested bitterly today at the hearing in the case of her husband, Harry K. Thaw, against having to go all over again the details of her relations with Stanford White.

"Right here and now," she cried, when pressed by counsel for Thaw, who is trying to secure his release from Matteawan, "I want to know whether I have to go all through this thing again. It's bad enough that Thaw hid behind my skirts in his two dirty trials. You don't need to go into details and you know it and you can't get me to answer."

In beginning the cross examination Shearn had the witness go over details about her early life in a little New Jersey village, then in Philadelphia and finally in New York, where she began to pose for artists and then went on the stage. He led her through the first stages of her acquaintance with Stanford White; of her visits to his studio with the swing hung from the ceiling, and to his quarters in the Madison Square Garden tower.

Thaw hung intently on the girl's testimony. He appeared to be biting his nails.

She told of her visits to White's apartments, but burst out with her indignant protest when asked to answer further intimate questions. Tears filled her eyes after her outburst and she spoke in a shaky voice. "You know all about this and so does every one else," she cried.

Asked whether she had testified that she had never seen anything to lead her to believe that Thaw was not of perfectly sound mind, she answered: "Yes," but later qualified it by saying "except on the question of Stanford White."

Mrs. Thaw was still on the stand when court adjourned until Monday.

Thaw apparently was displeased by the questions asked his wife, for tonight he gave out a statement saying: "I wish to apologize if counsel seemed to ask any questions which could cause Mrs. Thaw any pain except the unavoidable sorrow of recollecting her happy childhood before her father died. Counsel naturally proposed to do some grilling, but I have persuaded them that she has had the hardest lot of any one."

Elaborate Apology.

"What do you mean by waving that red flag and stopping the train?" asked the irate engineer.

"You wrong us," replied Meanderin Mike. "We was holdin' a little meetin'. What you saw was de new archist version of de Chautauqua ute."

TAFT, WING SLUGS ROOSEVELT AGAIN

from California had not dared to sit with the California delegation, but had been "in somebody's vest pocket upon the platform."

Heney closed amid applause.

Mr. Payne, of New York, then took the platform amid a great confusion of cheers, booing, cries of "Where's Aldrich?" and other friendly and hostile demonstrations.

He began by saying that the two Taft delegates from California were not sitting with the delegation because the chairman of the delegation (Governor Johnson) had withheld their tickets.

Chairman Root came to the front and said: "No Republican convention ever was won to a cause by drowning out speech on either side."

Mr. Root's remarks had a marked effect, as also did Payne's defiant announcement that he intended to speak for 20 minutes if it took him four hours to do it.

Heney said the question at issue went to the very root of self government, whether the law of a sovereign State, submitted to by both factions in the party should be set aside by the mandate of the National Committee.

He denounced what he termed an attempt to "rob the people of California of their right representatives."

Heney said the two Taft delegates seated by the National Committee, Messrs. Tryon and Meyerfield, had not dared to sit with the remainder of the California delegation, but had taken refuge "in the vest pocket of somebody on this platform.'

"Before these two men were able to run under the primary law," he said, "both they and the man they were to represent were forced to pledge themselves to abide by the preferential vote of the State. President Taft did that and if he now accepts the vote of these two men in this convention he will be guilty of high treason."

Congressman Sereno E. Payne, of New York, author of the Payne tariff bill, was greeted with mingled cheers and hoots as he appeared to take up the argument of the Taft delegates.

"Where's Aldrich"? yelled a man in the gallery.

Mr. Payne asked for a patient hearing. He said the 20 Taft delegates did not sit with the California delegation because the chairman of that delegation would not give them their seats to which they were entitled. His declaration that the Taft delegates had been seated by the supreme law of National Republicanism was greeted with a prolonged chorus of hisses, groans and boohs.

The demonstration grew until Senator Root took a hand with this warning: "No cause in a Republican National Convention was ever won by drowning speech on either side."

Floor Leader Watson took up the Taft argument when Mr. Payne had concluded.

Governor Johnson, of California, followed.

"This question," he said, "goes to the very root of Republicanism. It is 'shall the people rule'?" He declared that the "revolution is on in this country and progressiveism is sure to triumph."

Governor Johnson spoke with great vehemence and apparently in great anger. He denounced as unqualifiedly and absolutely false the claim that the Taft delegates received the highest votes in the Fourth district. The registrar of the county, he said, had declared it impossible to say which of the delegates had received the highest votes.

The Governor concluded with a tribute to Col. Roosevelt which started an incipent demonstration. It lasted little more than a minute.

Theodore Roosevelt, he said, "has demonstrated in this campaign that all the people—not a part of them—have the right to rule in this Nation." A roll call was then started on a motion to lay the minority report on the table.

There were a number of changes from former rolls on call. The Maryland delegation, which had divided 9 to 7 for Taft on the last call, went to Roosevelt on the California case 14 to 1, one not voting.

When Massachusetts had been reached the Roosevelt people had gained 23 votes from the last call. It was realized the result was likely to be close and the delegates followed the balloting with intense interest. New York gave 75 ayes and 15 noes, a change of one in favor of the Roosevelt forces.

Oregon, which had split even on earlier contests, voted solidly for the Rosevelt forces, a gain of five votes.

Washington's vote of 14 for the Taft delegates called out groans and hisses.

The California contestants lost by 542 to 529, the announcement being greeted with a great cheer by the Taft people. Hawaii's six votes were cast for the Roosevelt men. The next report dealt with the Georgia cases, being in favor of seating the delegation at large. There was no minority report and not a dissenting voice. The Taft delegates from Georgia were seated on a viva voce vote.

The Indiana cases came next. Both majority and minority reports were submitted, the delegates at large being first considered. The majority favored the sitting Taft delegates who were seated without a roll call.

The 13th Indiana district delegates for Taft then were seated without a roll call.

Then came the 11th Kentucky district contest, in which the credentials committee recommended the seating of one Taft and one Roosevelt man. This was ratified without a roll call.

On the viva voce vote the chorus of ayes and noes were about of the same volume, but Chairman Root always said "The ayes appear to have it.

The Roosevelt men made no issue of it and there was much laughter. Lots of spectators in the gallery joined in the voting.

"Roll the steam roller some more," shouted a delegate amid laughter.

During a lull between the reports from the committee some of the Roosevelt delegates set up a shouting of "We want Teddy." The chairman's gavel soon ended it.

In the Seventh Kentucky the Taft delegates were seated. The galleries continued to vote both ways. Some one set up a noise of "choo, choo, choo", in imitation of a "steam roller in action", while others imitated steam whistles.

In the Eighth Kentucky cases, the "noes" were loud and prolonged.

"There are some delegates here who don't appear to want to go home for Sunday," said Mr. Root. He added: "The ayes appear to have it."

Everybody laughed and even Senator Root smiled broadly.

In the Fourth Louisiana case, after the usual laughing chorus of "noes", Senator Root added to the merriment by exclaiming: "The ayes plainly have it."

In the Fourth Louisiana, for instance, the minority report said: "Skip all you can, except the names.'

The Fifth Louisiana contest brought a unanimous report in favor of Taft delegates. Despite this fact the chorus of "noes" was loud as ever.

The case of the Michigan delegates at large came next, the sitting Taft delegates having again been favored by the credentials committee. They were seated without a roll call.

The 18 Taft delegates from Mississippi were seated after a short debate. No roll call was asked.

The Taft delegates had been unanimously seated by the National Committee.

As soon as the majority report had been read, the crowd began to "choo, choo."

"Toot, toot, look out for the steam roller," yelled a delegate.

The minority report favoring the Roosevelt delegates having been read, Calvin A. Palmer, a Roosevelt delegate made a ringing appeal for the contesting delegates. He referred to the fact that Governor Osborne was one of these. "And he would be here today, but for a broken leg," he added.

This seemed to strike the convention as humorous and there was a wave of laughter. "Yes," said Palmer, after order had been restored, "and if you keep up your present tactics the Republican party in November will have a broken back."

Palmer stirred the Roosevelt delegates to enthusiasm by declaring that Michigan, the mother of the Republican party, might soon give birth to a new progressive party.

John D. Mackay, of Detroit, attempted to reply to Palmer, but was interrupted by the delegates and the galleries.

"The ayes have it," yelled one voice.

"All aboard, toot, toot," said another.

The Taft delegates were declared seated on a viva voce vote.

Two men in the galleries were put out by the police, the ejection calling out hisses. This incident was followed by another outburst of "We want Teddy."

It did not last long and at 7:38 with utter confusion reinging adjournment was taken until 10 A. M. tomorrow.

TO IMPEACH THE JUDGE

House Committee Votes to Report Articles Against Archbald

Washington, June 21.—The House Judiciary Committee voted unanimously today to report articles of impeachment against Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the Commerce Court, who has been under investigation for alleged misbehavior in office in connection with a culm bank transaction with the Erie Railroad. The report will be made during the week of July 1st. Chairman Clayton will present the report from the floor as of the highest privilege and will give the House the charges and specification the committee makes accusing the judge of misbehavior. With the report will be a resolution appointing five or possibly seven of the leading lawyers of the House to act as managers of the trial, which will be held by the Senate.

The culm bank transaction will furnish the masses of the accusations. The judge's vacation trip to Europe, alleged to have been financed by lawyers practicing in his court, and the supplementtary briefs filed by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad in a pending case may also come in for discussion. A sub-committee is at work on the form of the presentment.

When the case gets before the House it will be pressed for immediate consideration. Once past the House it is up to the Senate to proceed at its convenience. No time for the trial can be set but that there must be a trial is provided by the constitution.

may prove to be permanent. This alliance with the conservatives is considered Clark's great play for the nomination.

The switch of Clark creates a new situation. The Wilson forces, led by William J. Bryan and others, will make the fight for the progressives. Pitted against them, according to present indications, will be the combined strength of Clark, Harmon, Underwood and the uninstructed delegation of New York.

At present, indications would point to the conservatives, coupled with the Clark strength, controlling the convention. On paper they have a numerical majority and can dictate what the party shall do. Much depends upon what Bryan will say when he gets here.

The result of the line-up so far has been to put Bryan and Wilson solidly together in the convention. They also have the advantage of fighting for progressiveness. The natural inclination of the delegates who want to win this time is progressive and the fight for control of the party will amount to the conservatives using political means to hold a majority, while the progressives by making an appeal to party spirit will try to win away sufficient delegates to muster a majority.

It means also that Bryan as the advocate of Wilson may lead the fight against the Murphy-Mack-Taggart-Sullivan combination. The candidate upon whom the conservatives will agree is uncertain. The Clark people hope that their switch will bring the backing of the Murphy crowd to them, but the undercurrent on the conservative side is for Harmon. The Ohio man has been gaining ground daily for a week.

Temporarily the Clark switch has certainly given the conservatives a victory.

There are 16 members of the committee. Parker won by a plurality and on paper it would seem that the progressives by combining could have tied Parker by a vote of 8 to 8. But the Wilson people, who would have agreed to a combination, had been informed that the C lark people would not oppose Parker on a show-down and they, therefore, made no move for a combination.

The fight will be taken to the whole National Committee when Bryan gets to Baltimore. The Wilson people are uncertain now what to do, but Bryan will probably force a fight in the committee. This will probably be against him by a vote of about 30 to 21.

It is reported that William Randolph Hearst has acquiesced to the change of the position of Clark's forces after an indirect agreement with Murphy, of New York. This rumor which was being much discussed, did not lack confirmation.

In January, when Bryan made a fight for the elimination of Colonel James M. Guffey, of Pennsylvania, from the National Committee, he was beaten by 30 to 18. He will be able to muster a few, but not many more votes on this fight, the Clark people having the balance of power.

Then Bryan will probably carry the fight to the floor of the convention and the real test of strength will come. If Clark's forces remain with the conservative side. Bryan and Wilson forces, it is said, will have an uphill fight to wage. If Clark comes to the progressive side, which is now said to be out of the question, he would bring just about enough to win, but no more. A number of the delegates instructed for Clark are actually conservatives. This is said to be one of the main reasons why the Clark contingent switched.

It has been apparent from the start that Clark, fighting alone, would get his greatest number of votes on the first ballot. Delegates instructed for him, but not friendly to his cause, were an appreciable amount of his strength. A canvass of the uninstructed delegates and others who might come to him on later ballots revealed that Clark had not much to expect.

By going to the conservative side Clark's people form an alliance which may strengthen him. In the alliance is Sullivan, who controls the Illinois delegation, and can hold it in line for Clark, while Murphy is expected to deliver New York, Taggart Indianan. Conhecticut, it is believed, will probably follow New York.

It is beginning to be apparent that the Murphy-Taggart-Sullivan combination will have a fighting chance to dictate the nomination. Clark has enough votes now to win, if he can get this combination and a few other States. Harmon has not half Clark's strength, but if the combination decided to go to Harmon, it could carry a number of Clark's delegates with it on the first ballot.

This seems to make it certain that the choice of the conservatives at this time lies between Clark and Harmon, with the numerical advantage on Clark's side and the advantage of sentiment on the side of Harmon.

The Underwood forces will probably follow the conservatives and go either to Harmon or Clark in the order named on the final ballot should it become certain that there is little chance for Underwood.

Everything at this time depends upon control, as between the progressives and conservatives. Not only will the nominee depend, but the platform as well, upon the turn of battle. In case Harmon or Clark is nominated the conservatives, according to many, will attempt to dictate the platform and make it conservative. They would have the same relative strength on the platform committee as they would have in a test vote on the temporary chairmanship.

The sharp lines which are now drawn and the fact that Bryan is left as the sole leading figure to fight for progressiveness adds much to the talk of Bryan being again a candidate. While he may be leading the Wilson forces, Wilson will not be on the ground, and a sudden stampede to Bryan, in the event of his winning a single-handed victory for progressives, is regarded with danger by the real Wilson advocates.

That the fight is a real one is made plain by the position of Mack. He was selected by Bryan to be his campaign manager when Bryan started out on his free silver platform. They have been close political friends. Bryan and Mack split over Guffey last January, but the split did not appear again until yesterday, when Mack, at the instance of Murphy, of New York, put Parker through as temporary chairman.

Mack made a final effort to end Bryan's opposition to Parker before the meeting of the committee on arrangements. He called Bryan on the long distance telephone at Chicago and offered him the uanimous support of the committee as permanent chairman.

Bryan declined and reiterated opposition to Parker or any other conservative as temporary chairman. This reply of Bryan's was not unexpected and the eight conservative members of the committee were not unprepared for the news.

That his continued opposition was expected was attested by the fact that overtures had already been made to the Clark people to get them to stand for Parker. This move had been quietly pushed for several days and finally came to a head in time for the meeting of the committee.

As to Discipline.

The young teacher should learn and the older teacher remember that for every teacher that fails on account of lax discipline, there is another who fails on account of over-government. Some teachers assume the same attitude as the policeman who found two men talking on the street corner and ordered them to move on, as there was an ordinance prohibiting crowds gathering on the streets. One man remonstrated, saying that two did not make a crowd. "One makes a crowd, if I say so," answered the policeman. A teacher who assumes that whatever he says is law, and it is law because he says it, is making a sad mistake. When the pupils have a definite aim to do and the teacher has a definite aim in what he does, there will be no time nor occasion to "maintain order." It will maintain itself.—Missouri School Journal.

Cautious Through Experience.

"Come over and play with my little boy, sonnie," called the pleasant-faced new neighbor to the solemn-faced urchin on the fence between the two lots.

"Is your little boy sick of anything?" came the child's earnest question.

"No, indeed, sonny. Why?"

"'Cause I've had my tonsils taken out, an' my adenoids removed, an' my appendix cut out, an' I've been vaccinated an' serumized for typhoid an' spinal meningitis, an' I've had antitoxin injected, an' I do hope I won't have to have anything done to me this year, so's for a little while I can have a bit o' fun!"

Barred From Hamburg Bourse.

The public rooms of the Hamburg bourse, subject to very mild rules conducive to good order, are open to all, with very few exceptions. Their use is definitely forbidden "to all female persons," to individuals who have been deprived of their civic rights, who are under some form of judicial restraint, who have been adjudged guilty of fraudulent bankruptcy, persons adjudged to be in simple bankruptcy, those unable to meet their obligations, and such as are forbidden the use of the bourse through the decision of the court of honor.

Sprung an Old One on Him.

By the way, I saw a string of exceptionally large monkeys. I mentioned that they looked like small men, and a darky broke in and said: "Boss, them monkeys can speak if they wanted to, but they are afraid that if they did they would be put to work."—Northwestern.
